

PHILIP HALL

I M A G E S

My "Packard" image on metal that was on display at Woodies of Carmel now resides in the collection of Jay Leno.

Jay liked it so much he called me one night and invited me to LA to meet him, see his extraordinary car collection and visit the Tonight Show set (photographed here with my wife, Allison and Jay).

Besides the treat of touring Jay's auto collection, I photographed Jay's "Tank Car". Six weeks were spent retouching the image until it had just the right colors, balanced composition, softened background, foreground highlights, and specular reflections for printing the image on canvas. It's my honor to now have two of my art pieces on the wall at Jay's private auto collection garage. I look forward to hopefully photographing more of his collection.

The one-of-a-kind Tank Car built by Randy Grubb has a motor that came out of a Patton Tank, is capable of speeds of 150 mph, has tires from a concrete truck and with the handy work of Bernard Juchil of Jay's Big Dog Garage, gets pretty good gas mileage, I understand.

To learn more about this extraordinary vehicle here is a link to the Tank Car at Jay Leno's website:

http://www.jaylenogarage.com/cars/tankcar_shell.shtml